Murray Irrigation

WaterNow technical issue now resolved

The issue experienced yesterday with the WaterNow water ordering system was resolved earlier today.

Off allocation use and allocation account balances have been recalculated and are now correct for all customers who have ordered water so far this season.

Murray Irrigation apologises for any inconvenience caused by this issue.

Customers who have questions about their allocation account balances should contact Water Trade staff via reception on T. 1300 138 265.
