

Special Talking Water

Monday 4 November 2013

Murray Irrigation

New web address for Murray Irrigation water ordering system water.murrayirrigation.com.au

Further to our announcement in Talking Water last week regarding the rebranding of our water ordering system, I wish to advise customers that the new URL address for web ordering is water.murrayirrigation.com.au.

The previous URL address, waternow.murrayirrigation.com.au will redirect to water.murrayirrigation.com.au until 9.00am on Wednesday 6 November, at which time it will cease to operate.

Customers who have bookmarked the previous URL of waternow.murrayirrigation.com.au will need to update to the new web address of water.murrayirrigation.com.au.

The redirect is operational until Wednesday morning to allow customers to access water ordering, update their links and transition to the new web address, noting that all our offices are closed tomorrow.

Did you know you can change your communication settings?

Many of our customers are taking advantage of the order alert messages. For those customers who are not aware of the feature, or are yet to subscribe, please login to Water ordering at water.murrayirrigation.com.au and click on 'User options' then 'Communication settings'.

Here you have the ability to update your communication details, including:

- Mobile phone number
- Email address
- Fax number

You can also change the way you receive alerts and messages from Murray Irrigation, such as:

- Choose whether to receive message via SMS or email
- Register for order end alerts
- Register for order start alerts

Order alerts are sent via your choice of SMS or email at approximately 7.30pm the evening prior, to help you prepare or allow you to extend your order if scheduled to finish.

For further information regarding Water ordering, please contact reception on 1300 138 265.

Anthony Couroupis
General Manager