

“This was a great opportunity to relook at how my entire landholding was serviced. I worked with Murray Irrigation to achieve an updated irrigation supply that I had been considering for a while. Thanks to the PIIOP project I can now gravity water the eastern part of my property which previously required pumping. I have gone from three outlets to one, have greater command and due to higher flows, a lot more options as to how I can irrigate. As a bonus, I have more than halved my annual outlet fees.”
